University Press of the Pacific, United States, 2005. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 274 x 208 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.On November 13, 2001, President Bush signed a Military Order pertaining to the detention, treatment, and trial of certain non-citizens as part of the war against terrorism. The order makes clear that the President views the crisis that began on the morning of September 11 as an attack on a scale that has created a state of armed conflict that requires the use of the United States Armed Forces. The order finds that the effective conduct of military operations and prevention of military attacks make it necessary to detain certain non-citizens and if necessary, to try them for violations of the laws of war and other applicable laws by military tribunals. The unprecedented nature of the September attacks and the magnitude of damage and loss of life they caused have led a number of officials and commentators to assert that the acts are not just criminal acts, they are acts of war. The President's Military Order makes it apparent that he plans to treat the attacks as acts of war rather than criminal...
