Language: English Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Baronial and Ecclesiastical Antiquities of Scotland, Vol. 2 If the quaint-looking building, delineated in the accompanying engraving, be meagre in historic association, it may be considered as still more so in architectural importance, especially if we are to take as sufficient the account of it already published, which merely states that there is upon the property of Dalpersie an old mansion-house, inhabited by the farmer who rents the surrounding grounds: it is in the old castle style, and there is nothing about it worthy of particular notice. To the casual observer, we must admit that this hasty judgment has all the appearance of being true; but how far it is justified, by a more minute investigation, the following observations may show. By far the greater number of castles, or rather castellated houses, which, with their picturesque terminations of turrets and gabled windows, from so peculiar a feature in the architecture of Scotland, and especially of Aberdeenshire and its immediate neighbourhood, generally exhibit the characteristics of distinct ages and styles of architecture. Their lower portions belong...
