Not illustrated. 1847 Excerpt: . . . like the noiseless messengers of light and life to all around us, may have been unnoticed or unregarded, yet, like them they have silently and faithfully performed their work; like them, too, their mission of beneficence must be daily, hourly recurring, or the la I propose, in this Report, to lay before the Board a brief statement of what has been done during the past year to promote the interests-of education, together with such information as I have obtained in relation to the present condition of our common schools, and some suggestions of ways and means by which their welfare and usefulness may be still farther promoted. WHAT HAS BEEN DONE: By The Board And Its Secretary. A report of what has been done which embraced no statement of the individual action of the members of this Board, would seem to be incomplete; yet a single...
