

Growth and Innovation of Competitive Regions

By Ugo Fratesi

Springer-Verlag GmbH Dez 2008, 2008. Buch. Book Condition: Neu. 243x162x24 mm. Neuware - Time Time b a Space Space Time Time c d Space Space Fig. 1 Different possible scales for growth and innovation analyses spatial dimension, the sectoral dimension and the time dimension are represented. In Fig. 1a, regional development analyses are revealed, where the economy is sliced vertically into regions and their dynamics are investigated. The study of the evolution of industries, typical of evolutionary industrial economics, is represented in Fig. 1b, where the economy is divided horizontally into sectoral slices. This approach has progressed considerably in recent years (see Malerba 2006, for a recent survey). Modifications of industries have important spatial implications, which however are not normally at the core of these analyses even though spatial patterns of innovation differ greatly from sector to sector (Breschi 2000). Our approach operates in the manner of Fig. 1a and we will focus on regions, extending the analysis to industries only where this is regionally and structurally relevant. Hence, the approach in the book belongs to the tradition of regional development theories, but, in contrast to the more traditional analyses, we will not consider the region as an economic...
